Dear Dr. Pforzheimer:

Please find enclosed a transcript of our conversation a few weeks ago about the Davies and Bundy affairs. I have sent a similar document to Mr. Houston.

As you are doing with the other transcript, I would appreciate your noting any changes you feel would clarify the meaning of the enclosed. Also as before, we have wanted to avoid classifying the transcript for security reasons. Accordingly, I have deleted a few sensitive names so that we can send this through the mails. While all the deleted material has already appeared on the record, we thought it would expedite matters to act in this fashion. You will recall that the History Staff policy is that transcripts of interviews conducted by the History Staff should be considered confidential documents and therefore may be shown only to authorized Agency officers and to the individual interviewee. Sorry to have to burden you again with all our regulations.

I shall get back in touch with you in due course to make arrangements for picking up both this transcript and the last bit of the other one you have.

This letter sounds more businesslike than I had intended. Let me assure you once more how helpful you have been and how grateful Ken McDonald and I are for your continual willingness to share your rich experiences with us. I might add, parenthetically, that I have enjoyed our sessions together immensely. Finally, a word of thanks for refreshments, liquid and otherwise, which sustained us during our talks.

Yours sincerely,

[Redacted Signature]
